Some people think the child should be brought up in the village because of the good environment, Meanwhile some people think the young child should be brought up in cities. Do you agree or disagree. There is much controversy that young children should be brought up in the village or in the city. Some people think that young children should be brought up in the village because of good environment. Meanwhile some people insist that the city is a better environment for the young children due to the good education opportunity. In my opinion, as is case with many issues, Young children in the city or in the village has both negative and positive aspects. First of all, it is obviously that children in the village have a healthy living environment, they can breathe fresh air, eat fresh vegetable and study in a tranquil surround. On the contrary, pollution in the city has became more and more serious, children in the city suffer the noise and polluted air every day. Therefore the children in the village are healthier than the children in the city. Secondly, the education in the city is apparently better than in the village. There are many up-date facilities and excellent professional teachers who are aware of the latest development in their field in the city schools. City schools can provide the high quality education to the children. On the other hand, The village school usually has not modern equipment and some teachers are not qualified. Poor education usually leads to the village children facing a little employment chance in their future. In addition, the children in the city have a colorful spare time while the spare time is quite dull in the village. There are many entertainment facilities such as museum, park, zoo, concert hall, cinema and stadium in the city. The children in the city can see movie, visit exhibit, play sports game and listen concert. However, the entertainment facilities are quite limited in the village. Most of children in the village can play in the field only. If they want to visit museum, they have to go to the city. In a conclusion, the children in the village have a better living environment and the children in the city can have the better education and entertainment facilities. Living in the city or villages for the children, it is a matter of choices, it depends on personal likes or dislikes.
